

CONTENTS

PREFACE	ix
OVERVIEW
LUIS VELASCO PUFLEAU Réflexions sur les rapports entre musique et propagande	3
WESTERN EUROPE
ERIK LEVI Appeasing Hitler? Anglo-German Music Relations, 1933-1939	19
WILL STUDDERT 'Happy Hour in the Afternoon' and 'Station Debunk': Two Nazi Jazz Projects of World War II	37
LAURIE RUTH SEMMES Frank Capra's Job in Germany : Evoking Cautious Suspicion through German Musical Reassurance	57
LINDSAY J. HANSEN Singing the Right Message: Song and Controversy in East Germany	69
EASTERN EUROPE
ANDRZEJ TUCHOWSKI The Totalitarian Rhetoric of 'Struggle': March Rhythms in the Service of Propaganda and Ideological Indoctrination in Poland under Stalinist Dictatorship (1949-1956)	81
HANA ŠIŠKOVÁ Music as a Carrier of Ideas: The Example of Postwar Polish Music	101

LOUISA MARTIN-CHEVALIER
	Celebrating the October Revolution in Music: A Political Event?	111
SANJA MAJER-BOBETKO
	Music Historiography and Propaganda in the First Half of the 20 th Century: The Croatian Example	123
LADA DURAKOVIĆ
	Musica e propaganda politica: il ruolo e la retorica della stampa quotidiana nella vita musicale di Pola e dell'Istria nel periodo tra le due guerre mondiali (1926-1943)	131
VALENTINA RADOMAN
	Music and Propaganda after World War II: Example of the Socialist Federal Republic of Yugoslavia	145
VESNA MIKIĆ
	Mass Song as a Key Product of Yugoslav Music Propaganda	153
SOUTHERN EUROPE
DANIELA GANGALE
	Propaganda di sinistra: l'esperienza di 'Cantacronache' (1958-1962)	165
PAULO FERREIRA DE CASTRO
	«Aber gewisse Dinge stehen gar nicht drin» («But Certain Things Aren't at All There»): On a German Conductor, a Portuguese Symphony, and the Elephant in the Room	175
HELENA MARINHO
	Composing for Dance during the Estado Novo Dictatorship: A Case Study	191
GEMMA PÉREZ ZALDUONDO – MARÍA ISABEL CABRERA GARCÍA
	Voices, Strategies and Practices of Propaganda: Music and Artistic Culture at the Service of the State during Francoism	207

JUAN JOSÉ PASTOR COMÍN
De Don Quijote a Dulcinea: Dimensión política de las adaptaciones musicales cervantinas en el primer franquismo (1939-1950)	225
BEATRIZ MARTÍNEZ DEL FRESNO
Las armas de Terpsícore en la recuperación diplomática del franquismo. Coros y Danzas de España en la Argentina de Perón (1948)	243
FRANCISCO JOSÉ FERNÁNDEZ VICEDO
La música española en los años cincuenta: el Premio de Composición ‘Samuel Ros’ como reflejo de las políticas del régimen franquista y la transición hacia las nuevas estéticas compositivas	265
BELÉN PÉREZ CASTILLO
‘Problematized’ Music. Notes on the Reception of ‘Avant-garde’ Symphonic Music during the Franco Years (1952-1969)	289
GERMÁN GAN QUESADA
To Win Freedom... Musical Composition and Political Commitment in Spain during the Last Years of Francoism (1969-1975)	317
PEDRO ORDÓÑEZ ESLAVA
Mundo y formas del cante flamenco cincuenta años después: identidades del flamenco en el último franquismo	331
SOUTH AFRICA
CHARLA SCHUTTE
«Lieder sind Brüder der Revolution»: An Ideology-Critical Approach to the Use of Song as a Vehicle for Propaganda	353
ANNEMIE STIMIE
Songs, Singing and Spaces in South Africa: Afrikaans Folk Songs in Nationalist Publications	375

OVERSEAS

HARRY VANDERVLIST
«Shostakovich, Jump through the Window!»: Dmitry Shostakovich and the Opening of the Cold War Propaganda Battle in Time and Life Magazines	393
PAUL CHRISTIANSEN
«Finish It — Whatever It Takes»: Musical Propaganda in Political Ads from Bush's 2004 U.S. Presidential Campaign	405
BELÉN VEGA PICHACO
Re-(nova)volu-tion: The Members of the Grupo de Renovación Musical before the Cuban Revolution and afterwards	413
MARITA FORNARO BORDOLLI
Music and Propaganda: Contexts and Repertoires in the Second Half of the 20 th Century in Uruguay	429
BIOGRAPHIES	449
INDEX OF NAMES	455