Contents

Roberto Illiano
Preface ix

Massimiliano Locanto
The Composer on the Podium: A Dual or a Multifaceted Figure? xi

Early 19th-Century Composer-Conductors

Samuel T. Nemeth
Berlioz Conducting Berlioz's Orchestra:
Composer Stewardship, Sonic Control,
and the 'Monster Concerts' 3

Siegwart Reichwald
Building Community: Felix Mendelssohn,
the Rise of the Modern Orchestra, and the Expanding Role of the Conductor 29

Jacques Dupuis
Robert Schumann's Blithe Conducting?
Self-Determination, Nationalism and Musical Work 55

Mid-19th-Century Perspectives

Donna M. Di Grazia
Franz Liszt as Conductor, as Interpreter:
Perspectives on Sources and Scholarship 83

José Ignacio Suárez García
Wagner Conducts in Paris: A Reinterpretation of the Concerts at the Théâtre-Italien (1860) 117

Jacquelyn Sholes
Brahms as a Conductor:
Fraternalism, Antiquarianism, and Other Points
of Intersection with Brahms the Composer 161

Michael Stegemann
«An iron will, an invincible arm»:
Camille Saint-Saëns as Conductor 177

Fin-de-siècle Composer-Conductors

James L. Zychowicz
Mahler at the Podium: The Composer-Conductor
Reinvented for a New Century 205

Faith Thompson
Gabriel Pierné at the Concerts Colonne and Beyond 221

Vadym Rakochi
Seeing the Invisible:
Strauss the Composer – Strauss the Conductor 245

Vera Val'kova
Sergey Rachmaninoff the Conductor:
The Paradoxes of an Artistic Career 261

20th-Century Composer-Conductors

Alison Sanders McFarland
Racing through London and Mars:
Holst the Pedagogue and Conductor 291

Renata Suchowiejko
A Life in Music through Turbulent Times:
The Conducting Career of Grzegorz Fitelberg (1879-1953) 307

Mila De Santis
Alfredo Casella: Conductor between Two Worlds 333

Barbara L. Kelly
Performing Internationalism:
Eugene Goossens's Advocacy for New Music 357

Carol A. Hess
«I Started Late; It's a Passion Now»:
Aaron Copland's Conducting Career 383

Kevin Salfen
Lessons from the Podium:
Britten's Conducting Education 407

Paul R. Laird
Composing vs Conducting:
Leonard Bernstein's Lifelong Struggle 429

Levon Hakobian
Gunther Schuller, a «Compleat» Musician 455

Chloë Rouge
Presences and Absences. Pierre Boulez's Schedules:
Towards an Analysis of Pluri-Activity 475

Abstracts and Biographies 507

Index of Names 521